May 2011

We have now been working in our new building for over one year!

Spring brings the end of another successful academic year. Our students in our Physical Education, Kinesiology, and Health undergraduate programs have finished their exams and are preparing for convocation on June 9th. Graduate students will convocate on June 10th. Congratulations to all on the successful completion of your degree!

Vicki Keith, a long-distance swimming legend - locally and internationally, outstanding coach, and engaging public speaker, was nominated by the School and will receive an Honourary Degree from Queen’s at our June 9th convocation. We are all looking forward to this special event.

The undergraduate admissions round is in full swing. Our Kinesiology program is getting more applications for the available number of positions than any other Departments or School at Queen’s. Due to this continuing high demand, the University has put more pressure on the School to increase our undergraduate student enrolment which in turn puts increased pressure on our teaching capacity. We were informed that an additional 25 students will be admitted into our Kinesiology program beginning September 2011. In return the School has been allocated a new faculty position in the area of biomechanics. We are hoping to fill this position in the Fall of 2011. Our graduate program continues to grow and attract top notch students in all areas of study.

Now that we have settled in to our new building, we have been able to properly assess teaching equipment needs. Thanks to the generosity of our alumni, we are now able to begin equipping our teaching lab spaces to provide students with enhanced opportunities for hands-on lab experiences.

Jean Côté, Ph.D. - SKHS Director

Our faculty members and graduate students continue to be successful at receiving grants and funding awards. The research conducted in the School attracted the attention of several media in the last four months which show the societal relevance and impact of our research.

In order to ensure we plan accordingly, we encourage you to send your RSVP to attend our very first SKHS Spring Mini-Reunion Event being held on Friday 27 May 2011. Join us starting at 3 pm for a keynote lecture by Dr. Joan Stevenson; tours of our building; and a refreshments reception at which time we will officially open the SKHS Hall of Fame. You may RSVP via email to: skhs.director@queensu.ca.

Enjoy this second Alumni E-News and we look forward to your feedback.

PS – I am extremely excited to announce the launch of the very first School logo. The first place we are sharing the logo is here in our Alumni ENews. Thank you to everybody who contributed to the development of our new logo. Be sure to watch for the launch of our new website in the near future.

Alumni Career Notes

Danielle Simpson, BPHE, BA 2006
After Queen’s, I went on to complete my Master’s in Public Health at the University of Minnesota. I am currently working at the University of Ottawa Heart Institute/Champlain Cardiovascular Disease Prevention Network in the Division of Prevention and Rehabilitation. In my role here, I am responsible for the evaluation of our Healthy Schools Initiative which is an initiative to combat childhood obesity in the Champlain region of Ontario. As well, I work as a phone counsellor for patients who are trying to quit smoking. I am very grateful for the time I spent at Queen’s as it helped open my eyes to the exciting field of public health.

Briana Botsford, BPHE, BSC LISC 2010
In January 2010, I moved to Banff, Alberta, where I have been working the past 15 months as a Fitness Consultant, Personal Trainer, Group Fitness Instructor and Yoga Teacher at the Fairmont Banff Springs Hotel in the world famous Willow Stream Spa.

I am a Girl Guides of Canada "Guider" with the First Banff Brownies Unit. In June 2009 and 2010, I participated in the Alberta Ride to Conquer Cancer, and have raised over $5000 for the Alberta Cancer Foundation. Since summer 2009, I have participated in 8 Triathlons and 2 half-marathons. In August 2010 I raced in the Calgary Ironman 70.3 Triathlon. I volunteered at Ironman Canada in Penticton and have signed up to race, August 28th, 2011, so wish me luck!

I'm committed to my healthy lifestyle, living the dream of snowboarding, biking, running, swimming, and helping my clients and friends achieve their goals in wellness and fitness. My time at Queen's prepared me for my current profession, and for future endeavours. My current goal is to apply to the Boucher Institute of Naturopathic Medicine by September 2011, for admittance in 2012. Thank you Queens and SKHS!

Congratulations to Lisa & Ian Janssen and their son Devin on the birth of baby daughter Mia on December 17th.

Recognizing Queen’s Tri-Council Award Recipients

Queen’s currently boasts 334 graduate students who hold scholarships from the National Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada (NSERC), the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada (SSHRC) or the Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR).

These exceptional students not only contribute to Queen’s impressive output of scholarly research, but also allow the university to stretch its award dollars further. More than $8 million of Queen’s scholarship support comes from one of the three agencies.

“These are highly competitive awards,” says Vice-Provost and Dean of the School of Graduate Studies Brenda Brouwer. “In 2009, there were more than ten thousand applications reviewed nationally, and many of those were submitted after first making it through an internal adjudication process.”

Queen’s will recognize these impressive students at a reception this week. The event allows students and their supervisors to meet and mingle with their colleagues.

“It’s really special to be recognized and have the chance to expand your network within the university,” says Mohamed Hefny, a PhD candidate in the School of Computing.

The reception is also a chance to highlight the importance and benefit of collaboration between graduate students and faculty members.

“They’re not just doing a master’s or a PhD, they’re doing this great research, and they’re doing it here, with our faculty,” says Colette Steer, Coordinator of Recruitment Activities in the School of Graduate Studies. “This is our way of honouring those relationships.”

BEWIC Sports Day 2011
The School of Kinesiology & Health Studies was well represented January 22nd.

- The HLTH students teamed up with Mining students which is their explanation for a rocky performance!
- PHEKSA students entered four teams, corresponding to all four years of PHE/KIN. All teams had lots of fun and demonstrated strong showings over the weekend. In particular, the third-year team, “The BroKIN PHEmurs”, netted second place overall in the competitive category and the fourth-year team, “The KIN-Fu PHEighters”, was undefeated in their 8 games on Friday, advancing to Pool A playoffs in all four of their events.
WAG* SAT JAN 29

WAG was a SUPER success due to the great student volunteers that made sure that participants went home with great memories of a wonderful day of fun activities.

*A fun-filled day of non-competitive games and activities for children and youth from the Kingston community who have an identified disability (held in the ARC).
The UG Lounge on the second floor continues to be well used by students who take advantage of this great space to get some work done between classes.

Sunday, February 6th the annual Historic Hockey Series was held, a re-enactment and commemoration of the first organized game played in the Kingston Harbour in 1886.

Teams from Queen's, RMC and the 2nd Regiment of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery of Petawawa competed at Market Square, playing according to the rules used in the 1880's.

The Queen's team was composed of mostly fourth year PHE/KIN students (though a few noble 3rd and 2nd years helped out!). We managed to pull out a win against the 2nd Regiment team due to a goal in the finals minutes of play.

Unfortunately, we were not able to continue our winning streak and endured a tough loss to RMC in the final game. We came dressed to the nines and definitely showed the greatest amount of team spirit. Thanks to Kristina Daoust for organizing the team and congratulations to Nick Kew for being named Queen's MVP!

Watch your backs RMC, we're coming for you next year.
