The School of Kinesiology and Health Studies at Queen’s University invites applications from suitably qualified candidates interested in teaching a course in HLTH 315/3.0 – Theory and Practice of Health Behaviour Change. This is an on-campus, lecture-based course with an expected enrolment of ~170 students. Candidates should have a Master’s or PhD, and related teaching experience. This is a Fall Term 2019 appointment for the period 01 Sep 2019 to 31 Dec 2019, with classes in session from 05 Sep 2019 to 29 Nov 2019.

The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Queen’s is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, visible minorities, Aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities, and LGBTQ persons. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

The University will provide support in its recruitment processes to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that takes into account an applicant’s accessibility needs. If you require accommodation during this process, please contact: Angie Maltby at aam2@queensu.ca or 613-533-6000 x75214.

The academic staff at Queen’s University are governed by the Collective Agreement between the Queen’s University Faculty Association (QUFA) and the University, which is posted at http://www.queensu.ca/facultyrelations/faculty-librarians-and-archivists/queens-qufa-collective-agreement.

Applications should include a complete and current curriculum vitae, contact information for two (2) references, and any other relevant materials the candidate wishes to submit for consideration such as a letter of intent, teaching dossier, etc. You may send your application in MS Word or PDF format via email to: skhs.director@queensu.ca or you may send hard copies of your application and supporting letters directly to:

Dr. Jean Côté, Director
School of Kinesiology and Health Studies
28 Division Street, Queen’s University
