Reproductive Empires: Charting the Political Economy of ART in the Global South

The global use of Assistive Reproductive Technologies (ARTs) to address structural infertility has burgeoned since the early 2000s, with India a prime location for service delivery. The scale of expansion has resulted in a proliferation of non-standard and unethical practices that have, perversely, lead to increases in patient infertility. Senior Indian reproductive specialists seek to generate their own 'reproductive empires' by further expanding service provision into emerging markets such as Africa, the Middle East and Latin America. This talk explores these new empires and their political and economic drivers: the neoliberalism of health service provision in India; the privatisation and corporatisation of care; gendered competitiveness; and cultural preferences for biologically related children.

Her books Trading the Genome: Investigating the Commodification of Bio-information (2004) and Bio-Information (2017) investigate the emergence of new global economies in bioinformation, revealing how tissue samples and DNA segue into and out of the commodity form at different moments and places in their careers.*

Royal Military College of Canada Student Athletic Training Program

If you are an Undergraduate Student in a Bachelor of Kinesiology, Bachelor of Nursing or Bachelor of Health Sciences program, or enrolled in Fitness and Health Promotion, the Royal Military College of Canada can provide you with an opportunity to gain hands on experience in a Varsity Athletics program as a Student Athletic Trainer.

Students will be assigned to one of 7 RMC Varsity sports, with the opportunity to explore a variety of sports, as well as spend time learning in the Athletic Therapy clinic. Your first season is done on a volunteer basis to learn the skills required to support the needs of the athletes on your team, with any further involvement including an annual honorarium based on your qualifications/experience/performance.

As it is best to maintain as much consistency as possible with the trainers who are placed with the teams, it is asked that you dedicate a minimum amount of 3-4 nights a week, as well as be available for weekends

Practices are Monday – Friday 5:00pm-7:00pm and games are generally on weekends (with some exceptions). You will arrive 30 minutes prior to practice times and 2 hours prior to game times (with some exceptions as determined by the coach). We support our Varsity teams at both home and away games. Therefore, the opportunity to travel with your team will be available at times.

The RMC Athletic Training program provides all Varsity teams with injury assessment/prevention, taping, strapping, as well as emergency first response care for all practices and games. Throughout your time in the program, you will be asked to manage acute injuries, learn/apply various taping techniques, document athlete injuries and report them to your supervisor and coach, as well as, discuss possible treatment or rehabilitation techniques with your supervisor. Since you are using these skills on a daily basis, the more time you are able to be in the clinic learning, the quicker you will become confident in your skills.

Start Date: Mid-August (sport dependant)

End Date: End of March (sport dependant)

Minimum requirement: First Aid, CPR “C” and AED certification

Preferred certification: Canadian Red Cross First Responder Certification (or equivalent)

If interested, please send a cover letter, resume, and any proof of relevant certifications to Head Athletic Therapist, Nikki Antonopoulos, at nikki.antonopoulos@rmc.ca. The deadline for applications is March 27th, 2020. Available positions are limited. Only strong, motivated applicants will be considered.

Motionball Report

From: Brynn Rickard, PHEKSA VP University Affairs & Motionball

On Sunday March 1st over 200 Queen's students rallied together to compete in the Marathon of Sport in support of the Special Olympics. For the first year ever, various different PHE/Kin clubs (PHEKSA, WAG) and years got to sign-up teams to participate alongside local Special Olympics athletes in a variety of sports such as basketball, soccer, bench ball, floor hockey, and of course lots of dancing!

I am proud to report that the Queen's Marathon of sport nearly raised an outstanding $28,000 for the Special Olympics Canada Foundation, and set a new Motionball record. Congratulations to the Motionball committee that put on an amazing and seamless event, your hard work did not go unnoticed!

Keep an eye out for the #NoGoodWay campaign coming up this March, Motionball's Campaign which aims to end the use of the R-word in everyday conversation.
