

School of Kinesiology and Health Studies
THE DANIELLE POLK MEMORIAL AWARD
Application / Nomination Form

Description: Awarded to a KINE student entering their final year in the School of Kinesiology and Health Studies who best demonstrates a solid academic record in combination with a love of the outdoors, enthusiasm for life, love of humanity, and devotion to family and friends. This award was established by family, classmates and friends in memory of Danielle Polk, a student in the class of PHE '99 and a varsity athlete on the women's lacrosse team.

Fundamental to this award is that the candidate should exhibit a positive effect on their family, friends, classmates and community, and have demonstrated a personal commitment to and/or volunteer experiences, in outdoor pursuits. Examples of a positive effect on others may include: participation in a variety of outdoor activities; showing genuine compassion for others through volunteer activities directed to helping marginalized communities; providing encouragement for classmates to succeed; and showing thoughtful support for family and friends.

Note: Please be aware that in this context, outdoor pursuits represents a broad category that encompasses all outdoor activities including but not limited to outdoor education, wilderness or adventure pursuits.

Eligibility: A full-time student in the KINE program who will be entering fourth year in September 2022.
Minimum GPA of 3.0 (overall B cumulative average).

Additional Information: This is a monetary award.
